Variety Show To Be Given Junior Week

Plans Will Include Noted Orchestra, Sports Activities

In addition to the traditional Junior Promenade and step singing ceremonies, Middlebury's Junior Weekend of 1947 will introduce an original student production, the newly-revived variety show. The Junior Prom will be held on Friday, May 16, the Variety Show on May 17, and step singing exercises on Sunday evening, May 18.

The Junior Prom will feature the music of Bruce Stevens and his 14-piece orchestra. This orchestra from Boston will present both vocal numbers by its girl soloist and dance music.

The dance theme and decoration motif are to be surprises. Two o'clock permissions have been granted for the evening. Tickets will be sold in the dormitories and in Munroe, preference going first to the juniors, next to the seniors, and then to the remainder of the undergraduates.

Saturday's activities include the scheduled baseball game and tennis matches with St. Michael's.

Middlebury's revived Variety Show, open to the college audience, will be given in the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. on Saturday. This student entertainment will include nine song and dance numbers, solo and chorus arrangements, a skit depicting the returned veteran, and a grand finale number. There will be dancing after the show. Proceeds from this entertainment will be given to the Middlebury Memorial Fund. The junior class hopes to make this evening of variety a tradition of Junior Weekend.

Traditional step singing, the final event of Junior Weekend, will be held Sunday evening at 7.15 on the steps of Mead Chapel.

Paul J. Vyrros and Kaye I. Sturges are co-chairmen of Junior Weekend. Publicity is under the direction of Arthur C. Buettner and Nancy M. Cheesman.

Arrangements for the Junior Prom ticket sales are being made by William R. Johnson and Mary C. Forbes. George C. Newcomb and Jean C. Webster are in charge of the refreshment committee while Joseph C. Fitzgerald and Doris J. Maurer will conduct arrangements for the cleanup. Decorations are in charge of Donald M. McGuire and Honore H. Flatley.

Musical selections for the Variety Show will include six original numbers, with music by Benjamin F. Bradley and lyrics by William L. Wilson. Committee co-chairmen are Robert L. Kaufman and A. Ronni McKenny.

Leonard Chernus will supervise construction of sets for the show; Margery H. Lehmann will be in charge of makeup; and Patricia Salmon will direct the lighting arrangements.

Scholarship Award Made To D. Britton

The annual Pan-hellenic scholarship awarded to an outstanding sophomore woman was presented to Dorothy V. Britton on Tuesday, April 29.

Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, who made the award of $100, said that the selection of the recipient was based on qualities of scholarship, character, and extracurricular interest.

A committee composed of Marjorie A. Nelson '47, Mary E. Hamilton '47 and Dorothy A. deCanizares '47, conferring with the Dean of Women, made the selection.

Assemblies Adopt New Constitution To Govern Paper

The editor-in-chief of the CAMPUS will be elected by two representatives of the paper and two student leaders under a provision of the new CAMPUS constitution adopted by the Men's and Women's Assemblies at a meeting last Sunday afternoon.

This was the most controversial item of the afternoon's debate, and supplanted a proposal in the constitution draft presented at the meeting by the joint CAMPUS investigating committee.

The editor will be elected in the future by the editor-in-chief and managing editor of the paper, the speaker of the Men's Assembly and the president of the Women's Assembly. In case of a deadlock, the tie will be broken by a majority vote of the joint assemblies.

This proposal was made by Robert J. Simpson, Jr. '49, who represented the CAMPUS at the meeting, as an alternative to the investigating committee's method, which would have placed the election of the editor-in-chief in the hands of the speaker of the Men's Assembly, president of the Women's Assembly and the outgoing editor-in-chief of the paper.

Another important clause in the newly-adopted constitution, which was passed without argument, provides a method for removing the editor-in-chief for cause. He or she may now be recalled after a hearing before a joint meeting of the assemblies.

Other features of the new constitution are:

1. Salary increased for the managing editor (from $125 to $175) and sports editor (from $100 to $125). This money formerly was paid to the associate editor, a post eliminated by the new constitution.

2. Outstanding editorial workers may be advanced to assistant editorships at any time by the editorial board.

3. Elections to all positions will be made during the first week in May (with exception noted above).

4. The duties of the editors are restated, with complete responsibility being placed in the editor-in-chief's post.

5. The constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the assemblies in joint session.

6. Competitive examinations for all applicants for all posts previous to election.

Although there was discussion on only three points of the proposed constitution the meeting lasted three hours. Most of the debate concerned the method of electing the editor-in-chief. Support of the constitution committee's proposal came principally from Edward E. Adams '47 and C. Irving Meeker '50. Their point was that the student body should have a majority voice in any electing group designated to choose the editor of the paper.

Junior Marshals Elected; S. Finley, P. Vyrros Chosen

The senior class has announced the election of Paul J. Vyrros '48 and Sally A. Finley '48 as the 1947 Junior Marshals.

In addition to this election Ray Sacher '47 was named senior class orator.

The marshals were chosen by the seniors on the basis of qualities of personality, leadership, service and scholarship to lead the class of '47 to commencement exercises.

Mr. Vyrros has been active in college on the track and cross-country teams, in Men's Assembly, and in Blue Key.

Miss Finley has worked in Women's Assembly, Forum, Mountain Club, and as dormitory house president.

Mr. Sacher will carry out his duties as class orator on the morning of Class Day, June 14.

May Registration Will Be Required For 1947 Students

More Effective Planning For Courses, Personnel Make Action Necessary

Registration for all students who plan to return to Middlebury next September will be held this spring, the Dean's Office announced this week. All students now in Terms 1, 2, and 3 will be required to register for next year's courses between May 12 and 17; students in Terms 4 and 5 between May 19 and 24; students in Terms 6 and 7 between May 26 and 31.

Registration envelopes will be available at the Registrar's office during these periods. No registration for upperclassmen will be held in September, and students now in college must register during the designated periods. The places of those students who fail to register will be immediately filled by the selection of applicants from the waiting list of candidates for admission.

A fee of $10 payable to the Treasurer at the time of registration will be required; this fee is applicable to college term bills and is not refundable in the event of the failure of the student to return. Waiver on the payment of the ten-dollar registration fee will be permitted veterans who neither dine nor reside in college halls. The balance of $190.00 of the registration fee must be paid by Saturday, September 20, five days prior to the opening of college.

The change in registration procedure is considered necessary in order to promote more effective planning because of the great number of applicants on the waiting lists and because of the need for determining additions in departmental personnel, planning for classroom facilities, and ordering the required number of course textbooks.

Eastern Colleges Attend Conference On Student Union

Delegates from eight colleges in the New England area attended the Student Union Conference held at Middlebury on May 25 and 26 to discuss issues pertaining to student government.

Two delegates from each of the colleges, including Bates, Massachusetts State, Rhode Island State, U. N. H., U.V.M., University of Connecticut, University of Maine, and Middlebury convene annually to exchange ideas and to discuss problems pertaining to honor system, student government officers, administration rules and related topics. In 1948 Massachusetts State will be host to the conference.

Delegates arrived at Middlebury on Friday evening when they were registered and entertained informally in Forest Rec. Saturday morning two major panels were held at which individual questions were answered and debated by the various colleges. Saturday afternoon a general panel was held, under the direction of the Middlebury delegation consisting of Ann M. Walthall '48 and M. Sue Cooke '48. The final event of the week-end was a banquet on Saturday evening in Hepburn Rec.

Miss Walthall asserted that the major value of the conference was in comparing student governments in different colleges and estimating the usefulness of the honor system, which is becoming more and more prevalent in New England. The possibility of extending the honor system to the men in co-educational colleges and the relationship of the administration to students, were considered by Miss Walthall the basic problems on the average campus.

College Announces Dutton Fellowship

Pres. Samuel S. Stratton of Middlebury College announced this afternoon a generous gift to the College to provide fellowship for foreign travel and study.

The fellowship will be known as the Dutton Fellowship and will be awarded annually for the next five years to a member of the graduating class on the basis of literary and scholastic ability and attainments; qualities of manhood, character, public spirit and leadership; and physical vigor as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

According to the terms of the fellowship, it will be used by the recipient to defray his expenses for one year of post-graduate study at some institution in an English-speaking country outside the United States, or in France or Holland. The student will receive $2,500 and will pursue advanced study in a subject in which he has majored in college, but not use the followship for the expenses of his first year in a professional school.

The first award under this fellowship will be for study abroad in the fall of 1948. During the 1947-48 academic year, a committee which consists of President Stratton, Dean W. Storrs Lee, and Redfield Proctor, a member of the Board of Trustees, will make the selection.

Men's Assembly Announces Slate For Presidency

The nominations for president of Men's Undergraduate Association were announced by Men's Assembly today. The election will take place Monday, May 12, 8.00 to 10.00 p.m., in Mead Memorial Chapel.

The candidates, all from the class of 1948 are: Joseph H. Bailey, Benjamin F. Bradley, Jr., Richard W. Buonerba, Charles A. Butts, Jr., Dutee J. Hall, Jr., Robert L. Kaufman, Thomas L. Lyall, Donald B. McGuire, Jr., David M. Otis, and Thomas H. Turner.

All members of the men's college except men in Term 8 are eligible and urged to vote. Each voter will list all names in preferential order, and a majority is necessary for election.

Names Announced On Student Union's Slate of Officers

Elections for the 1947-1948 Student Union officers will take place on May 13 at 7.15 p.m., in Mead Memorial Chapel. The slate for this coming election was presented at the Women's Assembly meeting, Monday, April 28.

The candidates are: Irmgard Nierhaus '48, Martha Sue Cooke '48, and Gloria A. Greenley '48 for president. Those on the electoral slate for vice-president are: Elaine W. Arrington '49, M. Patricia McFarland '49, and Patricia A. Thwaites '49. The Chief Justice will be chosen from the two defeated candidates for president and Ann M. Walthall '48. Laura L. Williams '49 and the two defeated candidates for the office of vice-president will run for the office of secretary. Candidates for the Student Union treasurer are: Jean C. Webster '48, Janet L. Rice '48, and Doris J. Maurer '48.

Miss Mary F. Williams, new dean of women, will be introduced to the Student Union in Mead Chapel at an earlier date.

Aerobatic Show To Be Presented By Army Group

Four Middlebury teams will compete with fourteen other colleges for the silver cup to be presented to the winner of the flying meet this Saturday. The first plane is scheduled to leave the runway at 1.30 p.m.

The Civilian Air Patrol and the Vermont National Guard will participate in the meet. On Sunday between 2.00 p.m. and 3.00 p.m. the 134th Fighter Squadron will present an air show which will include aerobatics and a display of army planes.

Transportation will be furnished to and from the field. The raffle of tickets for free airplane rides ends on Saturday, but until that time tickets may be obtained from any Flying Club member.

Flying in the four events for Middlebury will be: Doris Jones '48 and Lionel Slater '49, balloon breaking; Linwood Meecham '50 and Jean Mace '47, streamer cutting; and Sidney Kay '50 and Orrin Ross '50, flour bombing.

A dance will be held Saturday night between 8.00 and 11.00 p.m., in the College gymnasium, featuring the music of the Black Panthers.

This is the first intercollegiate flying meet to be held at Middlebury. The Flying Club was formed in the fall of 1946 and has grown steadily. It has recently received an invitation to join the Association of Northeastern Flying Clubs, and invitations to participate in the Yale flying meet, another sponsored by the Aero Club of Michigan.

New ATO Chapter Installed on Campus

Sigma Alpha fraternity climaxed ten years of work and approval as a local fraternity when it became the Vermont Epsilon Mu chapter of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity last weekend.

On Saturday afternoon the Sigma Alpho alumni, actives, and pledges were initiated as members of ATO by two special initiation teams, composed of delegates from ATO chapters at U. V. M., M. I. T., Tufts, W. P. I., Colgate, St. Lawrence, U. N. H., and Connecticut State. The installing officers were G. Cecil Goddard, executive secretary of Colby College; Raymond Spinney of Boston, Chief of Province XVI; and Dr. Howard I. Slocum, trustee of the local chapter. Assisting in the initiation were Colonel John M. MacGregor, New York, Worthy Grand Chief; Dr. C. L. S. Raby, Philadelphia, Ritual Counselor; and Roy Watson, New Orleans, representing the high council. Following the initiation, the election of charter officers was held and the formal installation of the chapter officers was conducted on Sunday morning.

At a special service held in Mead Memorial Chapel, President Samuel S. Stratton addressed the delegates, new members and friends. Dr. Stephen A. Freeman and Dean W. Storrs Lee also participated in the service. Dr. Stratton urged the fraternities to cooperate with colleges and other educational institutions to produce a generation of leaders of high principle and courage. Special music was furnished by Frances Van Cleve '48 and Benjamin F. Bradley, Jr. '48, with Margaret D. Armstrong '47 at the organ.

The installation weekend concluded with a luncheon at Dog Team Tavern for the new chapter, college and fraternity officials, and visiting ATO's. Colonel MacGregor gave the principal address, stressing the need for leadership which

To Our Readers

A drive for the World Student Service Fund will soon start on campus to raise $2,000, Middlebury's share of the overall quota of two million dollars set for this year. In order to help raise this amount of money, the CAMPUS has cooperated with the drive committee in donating the last page of this week's issue to this cause. Due to the amount of space used for this purpose, plus the space devoted to our regular advertisers, the news material printed had to be greatly reduced this week. In devoting space to each article, we have tried to be fair to all organizations wishing publicity. We hope that you will agree with us that this drive is well worth this small inconvenience.

What Method Do You Use?

Both the slate for Student Union elections and the election of the Men's Undergraduate President have been announced in this week's CAMPUS. Too large a per cent of the students will let out a heart-rending groan, and mumble something about, "now we have to go through one of those all night sessions to elect some dope who is only a figurehead anyway." Such sophisticated parrots of fallacious reasoning should be taken out and shot. If our election of officers were really an effort to select the best fitted individuals, a giant stride would be taken toward building a good student government for next year. A great deal of the strength of any organization lies in its efficient, hard-working and devoted leaders.

The bright characters who would make a remark similar to this would have several foolproof methods for electing "some dope who is only a figurehead." One of the most frequently used is the old popularity method. It has been used for thousands of years, ever since the caveman first learned to distinguish his buddy from another neighbor. This is the method of voting for the guy who is hale, hearty and well-met, who is seen on the right committees, and with the right "wheels." The person who is elected by this method is sure to be just the right kind of a dope for the job. But the fact that the job often depends on the kind of person put in it, never enters the picture.

Another method used, which even eliminates the necessity of deciding which of the candidates has the most charming personality, is to vote for the fraternity brother or sister. All you have to do is to remember if you have seen one of the candidates at a fraternity meeting, and the voting problem is solved. It is so much easier to say, "I'll uphold the honor of the fraternity," than to spend a little honest thought in deciding how you will vote. And heaven preserve us from the voter who will try to overcome a personal prejudice in an effort to judge all the candidates fairly.

Then there are always the people who will vote the way they think the majority is going to vote. Reason? To get the meeting over with as soon as possible; "got a date at 9 o'clock, you know."

The idealistic will maintain that this is an exaggerated picture of student elections here at Midd. But if you think over elections in the past, and keep your ears open in the next week, you will find that "it does happen here." Whether this is true of the majority or the minority is controversial, but it doesn't take long for a minority to become a majority.

So what? So I'm only one voter. If you vote with consideration that will be one vote well cast. As members of a democratic society, we should vote according to the ideals of a democracy. We should vote for the candidate with the greatest capabilities, with the highest ideals of student government, and with the greatest ability to see the needs of the students.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editors:

Those who are working with the World Student Service Fund wish to express their appreciation concerning the contributions for ad space which were received from various campus organizations.

The enthusiastic response of the sororities, fraternities, classes, and other campus groups is greatly appreciated. The W.S.S.F. committee regrets, that because the demand for space was so overwhelming, the ads had to be slightly reduced in size.

They also wish to thank the CAMPUS editors for allotting space in the paper to the W.S.S.F.

JOAN BIGGS,
DORIS SMITH.

To the Editors:

If we may be so bold as to inquire—and it isn't our necks we are sticking out—what was the purpose of the Opinion of the Week column in the recent issue where the pros and cons of Middlebury men and Middlebury women were discussed so freely as if the group were a single type to be liked and disliked. It would seem that the assenting writers are fairly normal people who like the majority of their associates while the dissenters are anti-social persons who seem unable to adjust themselves to their environments.

However the freedom of expressing personal opinions is a desirable liberty, so it must be that the selection of so inane and childish a question is the work of the editors or their staff. Whoever is guilty, some corrective action should, in our opinion, be undertaken to protect the unsuspecting reader from being nauseated by reading juvenile answers to a question which has not the slightest semblance of interest or importance to the campus population.

The fascinatingly pointless inquiry into the opinions of sundry students as to their general attitude toward the opposite sex seems to us ridiculous. To those who cannot bring themselves to make a favorable opinion regarding the general demeanor of the student body at Middlebury we offer this cryptic advice: Scram!

How are things in Dannemora?

Signed:
RICHARD J. SALISBURY '47,
KENNETH T. MOORE '47.

Unusual Specimens Prove Bane of Waiter's Existence

Jackson K. Collins

In no other place does man show his animalistic nature as well as in a communal dining hall. A well-mannered polite freshman on entering Gifford dining hall seems to be immediately transformed into a vociferous primitive, clamoring for his food. He quiets down when he is served and his conversations become a series of highly informative grunts interspersed with monosyllabic demands for something from the far end of the table. He looks up long enough to growl, "Seconds" as the waiter approaches.

As a waiter in Gifford Commons I have had the opportunity to make a study of social conditions in the dining hall. I find that there are many students who could be called anti-social. In general they fall into one or more of the following groups:

Chow Houndus. We have some very fine speciments here at Gifford. They line up at the door a half an hour early; when the door is opened they make a dash for the head table, trying for the same seats every time. Before they sit down they make a grab for the rolls, ending in a tug-of-war. The lucky winners usually get four or five rolls of which they eat only three. The remainder are left on the table, soaked in milk for the waiters to pick up. We like very much to pick up these soggy tips; we enjoy the fecling of milk oozing between our fingers. Because of the Chow Houndus it is necessary to have individual service so that the weaker of the species will not die of starvation. In the army the Chow Houndus could be identified by the bandage around his right hand. Students have not yet learned the trick of deftly pinning the offender's hand to the table with a fork.

Milk Spillers. These are the most common of the anti-socials. Waiters pour the first glass of milk to lessen the flood. On the table, milk is annoying to clean up; on the floor, spilled milk can be downright dangerous to a waiter entering with a loaded tray.

Waiter Shouters. This breed is now extinct, having died off from starvation. It is about as healthy to shout, "Hey Bud!" at a waiter as it is to shout "Democrat!" to the Middlebury barber who is shaving you.

Tumbler Stuffers. Waiters do not like them. A tumbler stuffer's raw material are a tumbler and a paper napkin. The result is annoying, particularly if there is milk left in the glass. Waiters find it convenient to brush up crumbs with the napkins and this is difficult with a milk soaked napkin. Cake makes a very fine tumbler stuffing. We let the dish washer worry about this; he doesn't like it very much.

The last group I haven't been able to name. It comprises the people who dump coffee into cereal bowls and float several scraps of toast in it. It's a good thing the waiters eat first.

Rice Leads Team In Tennis Opener At Union College

This Thursday the Middlebury tennis team will open its season against Union College at Schenectady. Al Rice, captain and Vermont State Champion, will lead the team but as yet the men for the other five starting positions have not been chosen.

Coach Sheehan who is starting his initial season as tennis coach at Middlebury is aided immeasurably by the fact that he has almost a whole squad of veterans from last year's team. These include beside Captain Rice, Seab Short, Ed Merrick, Felix Rowhaten, Hal Richardson, and Bob Goell. One newcomer, Bob Parker, seems sure for an opening assignment.

Despite the fact that the weather has been continually cold and windy and the clay courts are still in poor shape, the team has been practicing on the asphalt courts for two weeks. However, it will be several weeks before the team can show top form. After the Union match, the Blue and White will be aiming for the New England Intercollegiates, hoping to better last year's showing.

Although definite positions have not yet been assigned, six doubles and three singles will be played. The team will have to go some to better last year's record when the average for the netmen was .714 stemming from five victories, two defeats.

WAA ANNOUNCES ALL-MIDD PLAYERS

The Intramural Trophy

Art Buettner

While last week's weather was everything it should have been for April days in Vermont, the intramural softball players who participated in eight games suffered from cold hands and sore muscles throughout the week. The schedule which was to become effective on Monday was revised due to rain, the first two games being moved back.

On Tuesday the Dekes stopped the KDR's and took the opener 17-4, while the Neutrals were opening up with their big guns on the ATO's to the tune of 14-5.

With the series well under way the DU club topped the Sig Eps by six runs under the fireball pitching of Joe Fuchs, who, although wild, put the ball across the plate often enough to prevent the Sig Eps from making more than eight runs, while the DU's picked up fourteen.

The Chi Psi's and Theta Chi's put on an exhibition of unnerving softball in a game which was anything but a pitchers' battle. Don McGuire started for the Chi Psi Lodgers and gets credit for his team's 16-14 win. Bob Fuller is charged with the loss.

The Dekes came through on Thursday to take their second game of the season, maintaining a 1.000 average when they countered the Alpha Slug's four runs with ten of their own. On the other field the KDR Ranchers and the ATO's fought it out in the closest game of the season thus far. The Ranchers went home with a one run margin, taking the game 5-4.

The Chipsies played again on Friday and rocked the Neutrals back on their heels, 11-1, to make it two straight for a perfect week. The Sig Eps came back after their loss to the DU Club to take Theta Chi into camp, 10-4, after four innings of a tied-up ball game.

Decathlon

With the running of the first section of the sixty-yard dash on Tuesday, April 22, the decathlon lacked but two events to be run-off before completion. "Whitey" Pearlstein, Middlebury's dynamic dashman, went off cleanly at the gun and broke the tape in 06.5 seconds. Panther co-captain, Dave Stebbins, who clocked in at 51 flat in the four-forty last Saturday on a slow track was second, a step behind Murray Pearlstein.

Charlie Morris captured third place in the run-off, well up in the flock. Al Dragone, who pulled a tendon in the semi-finals and was therefore unable to participate in the finals, was awarded fourth. This slow reporter got fifth.

Badminton Tournament

In the finals of the badminton tournament, last year's finalists again played. As before, Kyle Prescott won in straight sets from Dave Smith 15-3, 15-8.

The doubles in the intramural badminton tournament have started and it looks like it will end up in a battle between the DU's and Chi Psi's for top honors.

Middlebury Drops First Track Meet To Williams Team

Led By Veterans, Midd Looks For Good Season

The track squads of Williams college eked out a win over an aggressive Middlebury team 70-56 in the season's opener at Williamstown.

Irv Meeker was the Panther's most versatile star, winning the broad jump and placing second in the 440-yard dash, which was won by Midd's co-captain, "Fuzzy" Stebbins, who took the event in 51 seconds flat. Dave had given his all at least twice before this event but he went on to beat Williams' heralded Delaney, who was some seven yards behind the flying Stebbins at the finish.

Jim Newman wheeled around the two-mile course in 10 minutes, 26 seconds. Cook of Williams was also feeling the hot breath of Bob Mason and "Gus" Gustafson, as they clawed their way to the finish line with Mason just edging his teammates.

The 100-yard dash was the closest event of the afternoon. Barney of the Purple squeaked by Midd's speedster, "Whitey" Pearlstein, in the winning time of 10:04. Closely on the heels of "Whitey" came Art Buettner of Midd to garner third place. Again in the 220-yard dash, it was Barney and Pearlstein pitted against each other. (Whitey lost to Barney by the narrow margin of less than three feet) and Brooks of Williams captured third.

In the 880-yard run, Kevin Delaney found the event easy going, with Stebbins retired for the afternoon, and led the pack around the cinders to snap the string in 2:03.2. Art Goodrich made a strong bid as they neared the finish line and gathered in third place.

Williams Takes Mile

The mile went to Williams for the first and second spots with the winning time of 4:45.8. "Indian" Dave Dale broke into the scoring column only a few paces off second place.

The 220-yard low hurdles found Midd's co-captain, Don Gilmore capturing second place; again in the 120 high hurdles, the formidable Gilmore and Roy Kinsey teamed up to bring home points with second and third positions.

In the field events Dix Hemphill and Hal Parker of the Panthers crossed the bar at 10 feet to tie for first place. Dix could have vaulted to the clouds, but there was no Ephman competition left.

The shot put was won by M. Detmer of Williams with a pitch of 42 feet, 11 inches. Marty Wittlen heaved the weight for second place and E. Detmer dropped the sphere for third spot.

The high jumps went to 5 feet, 11 inches with Shope and Reid of Williams taking the tie for first place in the event. Bob Buttrick and Hal Parker of Midd went

Middlebury Nine Meets Champlain in Home Tilt

Golf Season Begun With Williams, Yale, Wesleyan Matches

The Middlebury golf season opened last Monday, April 28, at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. The team then traveled to Yale University, New Haven, Conn., Tuesday, April 29. The first round of golf matches ended last Wednesday, April 30, at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

The par and birdie boys are spurred by many golf veterans. Capt. Al Wolfley and Ray Nihan played on the Illinois State Championship team in 1939-40-41. Both of them were in the championship flight of the Vermont State Amateur match last year. Also Al Wolfley placed sixth low in the New England Amateur intercollegiate match last season. The Middlebury driving star, Jimmy Marchese, was a big time Massachusetts State amateur. Roland Boucher took medalist honors in the Vermont State Amateurs last year. The youngest member of the team, Art Gebhardt, shows promise of strong teams to come. He was a young champion amateur in the State of Wisconsin last year. Don Bates is considered one of the leading amateurs in the State of Connecticut.

The Yale course is probably the toughest the Panthers will encounter this season. It is a tricky course composed of drive-length sand traps, table-top greens, and every other horror to make it a divot-digger's nightmare. The Middmen didn't meet Yale or Wesleyan last year; however, they did drop last year's match to Williams by one stroke. Since three of the best men are ineligible to compete in matches away from Middlebury, there will be two teams this year. One team, which is composed of Jim Marchese, Al Wolfley, Ray Nihan, Art Gebhardt, Art Pepin, and George Westin, will be entered in those matches which are not scheduled to be played on the Rutland course. Bob and Roland Boucher, and Don Bates, the three ineligible golfers, will take the places of Art Gebhardt, Art Pepin, and George Westin in home matches. Capt. Al Wolfley said that we stand a good chance to win our home matches since the Midd golfers all shoot in the high and low seventies. The home team is scheduled to meet Williams this Saturday, May 3, and Dartmouth on Wednesday, May 7. The Midd team should prove very strong opposition for the Dartmouth Indians, who have been named the strongest team in New England.

RPI Beats Panthers In 1st Game; Tally Three in Ninth

The Panther baseball team faces its second home test this Saturday when it meets the Champlain nine. In their previous Porter field outing, the Middmen were downed by the R. P. I. Engineers in a tight defensive battle.

The big gun in the Engineers' 4-1 triumph both offensively and defensively was their sandy-haired hurler, Tehune. Besides limiting the Panther batsmen to a single scant hit, the strong-armed right-hander wielded a potent bat getting two hits, both of which figured in the scoring.

Although in hot water several times, Midd's Ferdie Vetare matched his hurling rival for eight innings allowing the Engineer horde but four scattered hits. Combined with a dazzling inner defense, Vetare's steady performance held the visiting nine in check untii their last-inning deluge.

Secrest, the pint-sized R. P. I. catcher, started off the uprising by lining one of Vetare's offerings over second for a clean base hit. After McLaughlin popped to Kailey, Secrest engineered a successful pilfering of second. O'Brien then delivered the decisive blow of the game, a sharp drive into center driving home the winning tally.

Engineers Press Attack

With a determined Midd team yet to bat, the Troy aggregation continued to press their rally. After Carpenter lifted to Buonerba, Tehune helped his own cause with a solid smash to right. Taking the drive on the first bounce, Sam Masters cut loose with a rifle-shot throw to Kailey at third in an effort to cut down the lumbering O'Brien. It appeared that the perfect throw had accomplished its purpose when Kailey tagged the Engineer runner for what would have been the third out. However, Umpire Faukner ruled that the Engineer runner had beaten Kailey's tag. A mild "rhubarb" ensued with several members of the Panther infield remonstrating with the arbiter. However, the protest soon quieted down with O'Brien still perched on third.

This adverse decision seemed to affect Vetare's control for he proceeded to load the sacks by walking McCombs. Kimball then came through with the blow which sent the tiring Vetare to the showers, a scorching grounder past third, scoring O'Brien. Relief pitcher Lloyd Marshall came on the scene to put on the fire, but instead walked Lanzo to force in Tehune with the final tally of the inning.

The Engineers broke the scoring ice on an odd play in the fifth inning. With men on first and third, Vetare whirled and threw to second. Umpire Faukner immediately ruled this move a balk and waved in Carpenter from third.

Midd WAA Wins Vermont Playday

The four first teams which participated in the W. A. A. basketball tournament traveled to U. V. M. on Saturday afternoon, April 19, for a playday, the first of its type in the competition between the two colleges. Representatives of the Modern Dance group also made the trip to take part in a modern dance demonstration with the dancers of U. V. M.

In the basketball tournament the Middlebury teams captured the honors of the day by outshooting their opponents 63-50. The team scores were as follows: UVM seniors 10; Midd seniors 14; Midd juniors 18, UVM juniors 10; Midd sophomores 14, UVM sophomores 6; UVM freshmen 18, Midd freshmen 17.

After the modern dance demonstration and the basketball games, a supper was served for all the participants in the playday. Miss Mary S. Rosevear and Miss Maxine J. Shurtz of the Middlebury physical education department for women accompanied the participants to Burlington.

Panthers To Play For S.A.A. Dance

The familiar strains of "Moonlight in Vermont," the Black Panthers' theme, will again be heard Saturday night, May 3, when the reorganized orchestra plays for the S.A.A. dance being held in conjunction with the Flying Club meet.

Their last engagement for a college social function was the Klondike Rush, Winter Carnival week-end. Robert Seixas '49, leader, promises a new arrangement to rival "Hey Ba Ba Rebop."

Registration

A complete list of courses and scheduled hours will be available to students on or before May 12 at the Registrar's office. Men will be required to prepare a semester account card and enter on it their residence and boarding place for next semester as well as course data and information regarding G.I. benefits. Men boarding on campus will be required to prepare a dining hall card.

NOTICE

The International Relations Club will discuss United States policy in Germany at a meeting in Forest East living room on Friday, May 2, at 7.00 p.m. The subject will be introduced by Donald H. Baker '50, and Cynthia R. Strout '48.

MIDDLEBURY SQUAD TO MEET CHAMPLAIN

The Panthers rallied in the sixth inning scoring the tying run after the first two runners had been retired. Barquin was safe when shortstop Kimball misplayed his grounder. In short order, Barquin stole second and became the first Panther to reach scoring position. He scored a moment later when Gid LaCroix smashed Tehune's bid for a no-hitter with a sinking line drive into center field. Lanzo reached for the ball after a long run but was unable to hold it. In the judgment of the official scorer, the play was scored as a hit because of the difficult nature of the catch.

skyward to 5 feet, 8 inches to pull in third spots.

Midd's Bob Reed threw the spear 159 feet, 3 inches, to take first place in the javelin. Stablin of Williams threw the stick for a close second with Midd's Hal Parker taking third.

The discus was a clean sweep for Williams, but the Panthers wouldn't say die and Irv Meeker leaped 20 feet, 1½ inches and into first place in the broad jump. Irv was closely followed by Joe Lamere.

This weekend the Panthers travel to Lewiston, Me., to vie with Bates in a dual meet. The Panthers relied heavily on freshman performers at Williams, but with this experience, should give a good showing Saturday, and if the field events break Middlebury's way it's a sure win for the Blue and White.
